What makes K-house a military container camp?

K-HOME's military container camps are crafted from high-strength steel, providing superior resistance to wind, earthquakes, and fire. The comprehensive solution offers customization options for interior fittings, amenities, and additional facilities like bathrooms and kitchens.

Why should you choose a container camp?

Container Camps offer rapid installation, disassembly, and mobility, enabling quick provision of space and facilities on construction sites. They are also environmentally friendly and energy-efficient, adhering to sustainable development principles.

How many countries are our container houses sold to?

For 19 years, our container houses, steel structures, movable board houses, portable toilets have been sold to more than 60 countries. We focus on quality and brand building.
