How many power plants are there in Kuwait?

Power generation in Kuwait depends primarily on the cogeneration-desalination power plants. There are 6 power plants in Kuwait, namely: Doha East, Doha West, Shuaiba, Al-Zour South, Sabiya, and Shuwaikh as shown on the Kuwait map in figure 1. These power plants employ both thermal steam turbines and gas turbines for power generation.

Are electrical power stations available in Kuwait?

This paper has presented a detailed analysis of capacity and availability of electrical power stations in Kuwait. The analysis show that as Kuwait population has increased over the past 34 years by more than 3 times, the demand for power consumption has increased by almost 7 times.

What is the expected power output in Kuwait?

If this result is extrapolated and generalized to all stations in Kuwait, which have a total power generation capacity of about 12880 MW, the expected output would be  $12880 \times 0.9665 = 12448$  MW. This is the expected power output if they are all operated with full capacity except for forced shut downs due to failures.

How has power consumption changed in Kuwait?

However, installed capacity has increased from 1,868 MW to 12,879 MW, an increase of about 590%. The last column in table 2 shows that the trend in power consumption is much higher than the trend in population increase. Also, per capita consumption shows an increase of about 177%, which is an indication of the increase in quality of life in Kuwait.
